

To the most beautiful loving caring and the beautiful soul I have lost...

Thank You for Existing!!! The last Valentines was the best I ever had tho I couldnt be with you and now here I am without you...

I dk if I should be doing this but there was never a day without your thoughts I always try to smile whenever I think about you as you asked but in a moment I get lose myself in tears, I'm not crying tho coz I dont want any of our beautiful memories, best moments, emotions we shared and mostly the LOVE I got from the child in you, CARE, Attention & Time I got to fade away.

I want to say alot but I dont want to trouble you again.

I know you dont wanna hear this but I just cant resist
